

REGULATIONS OF
UNIVERSITY OF FLORIDA

6C1-4.0162 Student Affairs; Student Conduct Code; Interim Suspension Pending
Investigation and Hearing.

(1) The Dean of Students or his or her designee has the authority to determine if an alleged violation of Regulation 6C1-4.016(2), warrants interim suspension of a student or a student organization's privileges pending the completion of an investigation and hearing regarding the alleged violation. The criteria to be used by the Dean of Students or designee in making this determination are:

(a) whether the student or student organization poses a danger of serious physical harm to himself/herself/themselves or others at the University; or

(b) whether interim suspension is necessary to protect the health, safety or welfare of the student, members of the student organization, or others at the University, or of the public.

(2) Upon determining that an interim suspension is warranted, the Dean of Students, with approval of the Vice President for Student Affairs, will suspend the student or student organization pending (1) completion of all investigations of the matter by the University and/or any outside entity or entities having jurisdiction over the matter, and (2) completion of a hearing conducted in accordance with University regulations.

(3) Interim suspensions pending investigation and hearing will be immediately noted on the suspended student's university transcript in accordance with Regulation 6C1-4.026.

(4) Generally, hearings conducted pursuant to this regulation will be scheduled after all investigations have been completed.

(5) No student or student organization may be removed from on-campus housing until the completion of the appropriate hearing unless it is determined by the Dean of Students that such removal is necessary to protect the health, safety and welfare of individuals or property.
